

Bring out your unpublished data on a data sharing platform!

You are interested in open science but you don't know how to be involved in?

You have some unpublished and valuable data?

Bring these data along with your related unpublished manuscript to increase your publication rate and to get a first step toward open science!

The zenodo platform will be used to upload your data/manuscript during this working group (see exemple here)